OPEN WAR FROM THIS TIME ON

PROSPECTS OF PEACE HAVE DISAPPEARED

Express Companies Refuse to Reinstate Striking Drivers—Strike Will Spread From Now on—Rioting Expected.

Chicago, May 23.—All prospects of peace in the teamsters' strike have disappeared and it will be open war from this time on. The last conference looking toward a peaceable adjustment was held to night between James B. Barry, business agent of the Express Drivers' union, and the local managers of the express companies. When the meeting finally took place the conversation was brief and pointed. Barry opened the negotiations by saying, "Our position is this: I want all the men reinstated except those guilty of violence. I cannot do anything different. That is what the local union wants and that is what the local officers have told me to demand. That is all I can do. The men told me they all want to go back in a body or they won't go back at all. That is the position of the union and the union officials."

The reply of the express companies was brief. It was: "Our opposition to reinstatement of the men will be the same four years from now as it is to day. We will not take them back under any circumstances."

This brought the conference to a close and all parties concerned in it immediately left the city hall.

SPREAD OF STRIKE.

The spread of the strike to day was not as large as was anticipated. It being understood in many quarters that there was still a possibility of peace being reached. Four hundred and sixty-two drivers employed by twenty-eight firms belonging to the Lumbermen's association went out to day. In each case, the men were ordered to make deliveries to boycotted houses, and the usual strike followed. Fifty-five other firms belonging to the Lumbermen's association will make similar requests of their men to morrow and by night it is expected 2,000 drivers employed by these firms will be on strike.

The United Employers' association of wood industries, composed of 135 firms owning lumber yards, planing mills, sash and door factories, etc., to day decided to call upon their drivers to make deliveries. This will force out 1,800 additional men. Edward Hines, president of the Association of Wood Industries, said to night that members of the organization proposed to stand together. He declared they were ready to fight it out, and have the matter settled once and for all. Hines said he would start to haul lumber in the yards the first thing to morrow morning, but that as soon as it was necessary to make outside deliveries he would load the caravans of wagons in person.

OTHERS INVOLVED.

With the union drivers employed by the Lumbermen's association on strike it will be only a matter of a short time until all outside unions will become involved in the trouble. As soon as building material on hand now has been used up, and an attempt is made to make deliveries with non-union drivers other labor unions employed on the work will order their men to refuse to handle non-union material. Unless the strike is settled within a short time, carpenters, stone masons, and other affiliated organizations are bound to become involved in the difficulty.

EXPECT RIOTING.

The possibilities for increased rioting are vastly enlarged by the spread of the strike to the lumber district. It is a district noted for fierce mobs which have marched through it during former strikes and is a place which has invariably caused more trouble than any other part of the city. City officials and Sheriff Barrett feel well-nigh hopeless of being able to maintain order in the lumber district and at the same time protect wagons in the downtown streets as they have been doing thus far in the strike. It has therefore been determined that at the first outbreak of rioting such as marked the strike ten days ago, a call will be made on Governor Deussen for military assistance. The troops which will be first ordered out are the necessary forces composed of the First Illinois national guard, about 1,000 men. Every preparation has been made for a prompt response by the national guards and a large contingent of riot cartridges has been received. Adjutant General Scott was in Chicago to night looking over the situation, but left for Rockford this morning on a late train to attend the encampment of the state Grand Army.

AN INJUNCTION.

An injunction restraining the Goodrich Transportation company from refusing to accept goods consigned to Montgomery Ward & Co. and other strike bound houses in Chicago, was issued to day by Federal Judge Bethia. A letter purporting to have been sent by the general freight agent of the Goodrich company, instructing agents to refuse to accept for transportation goods consigned to boycotted houses, was presented in court as a basis for the request for a restraining order.

NO CONVICT LABOR

Order Issued by President Prohibiting Employment on Government Works.

Washington, May 23.—The president has issued an order prohibiting the employment of convict labor on government works. The question of employment of such labor was raised in connection with certain river and harbor improvements in Arkansas, the contractor for which desired to employ a number of state convicts under contract with the state authorities. The officials of the war department were almost unanimously opposed to the plan and Judge Advocate General David gave an opinion that it was contrary to the spirit, if not the letter, of the labor laws of the United States.

Chicago, May 23.—The grand jury to day indicted twelve men in connection with the death of Charles Carlstrom, a member of the Carriage Makers' union, who died as a result of a beating he received at the hands of thugs, hired by officials of the union, according to their own story. The indicted men include nine union officials and three men who were hired to beat men who did not go on strike, or took strikers' places. The indictments charge manslaughter and conspiracy to commit grand bodily injury, the autopsy having shown the death of Carlstrom was due directly to pneumonia. Physicians declared the disease was probably the result of the injuries he received, but it was still the direct cause of death and the men could not therefore be charged with murder.

FATAL COLLISION.

MUST ANSWER QUESTIONS

TROUBLE AHEAD FOR OFFICIALS OF UNION

Judge Kohlsaat Ruled They Must Answer Questions Put to Them in Court—Others May Be Punished for Contempt.

Chicago, May 23.—Judge Kohlsaat, of the United States district court, ruled this afternoon that President Shea and other union officials answer questions put to them in the hearing before Master-in-Chancery Sherman.

In addition to ordering that the men should answer questions put to them, the judge ordered that thirty-seven men be called into court to show reason why they should not be punished for contempt in violation of an injunction of the court forbidding interference with the management of wagons of express companies. Twenty-four men were also ordered to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt in violating the order of the court issued for protection of the wagons of the Employers' Teaming company.

The union officials who are ordered to answer questions will be called before the master-in-chancery to morrow and questions will be asked of them a second time. If they again refuse to answer they will be cited for contempt of court. The questions which the men have been ordered to answer relate chiefly to their knowledge of certain proceedings in the commencement of the strike, it being the object of attorneys for plaintiffs in injunction proceedings to show they possessed knowledge of the strike and that they in large measure controlled its movement and progress.

SWITCHMEN'S UNION.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 23.—The Switchmen's Union of North America, in convention here to day, adopted a new constitution effective July 1. The principal changes are the creation of three class insurance and a provision that delegates and grand lodge officers must be active switchmen.

SHOT BY HIS WIFE.

Chicago, May 23.—Robert Twitty was shot and instantly killed by his wife to night in a quarrel which had its foundation in the fear that he would be hurt by other people. Twitty and his wife resided in a district which, since the teamsters' strike, has seen frequent fights between white and colored men. To night when some shots were fired outside of his house Twitty started to see if another "race war" had commenced. His wife objected to his leaving the house, saying he might be hurt. Twitty insisted on going and in the quarrel which followed his wife shot him through the brain. The woman left the house and has not yet been arrested.

By pleading guilty Machen escaped trial on eleven other indictments, the district attorney having agreed to quash them. The two years' sentence will begin upon the expiration of a like term given him upon conviction on the indictment on which he was tried a year ago. PHILADELPHIA'S GAS TROUBLES

EFFORTS MADE TO DEFEAT THE LEASE

Mayor Removes the Two Principal Members of His Cabinet—Great Political Battle Now On.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 23.—In his effort to defeat the consummation of the plan to lease the city gas works to the United Gas Improvement company for twenty-five years for $25,000,000, Mayor Weaver to day dismissed from office the two principal members of his cabinet and thereby delivered a staggering blow to the dominant political organization of this city which has caused probably the greatest sensation in the history of Philadelphia's municipal affairs. While citizens were expecting some sort of move on the part of the mayor, they were not prepared for the immediate removal from office of Davis J. Smythe, director of the department of public safety, and Peter E. Costello, director of the department of public works. The mayor has announced that he is in the fight to the bitter end, which means that a great political battle is now on and will be carried to the polls next November. In his fight against the gas lease and the Republican organization, the mayor has called in as counsel Ellihu Root, of New York, and former Judge James Gay Gordon, of this city. Judge Gordon is a Democrat.

Each official interlocking his resignation used the phrase: "To take effect when my successor has qualified." These words are taken in political circles to indicate determination to hold on to office as long as possible, as the successors of the two directors must be confirmed by a two-thirds vote of the select council. The mayor evidently took the same view, as it was stated this afternoon that he had notified Costello and Smyth the form of their resignations was not satisfactory and gave them two hours to resign without qualification on pain of removal from office.

An Accidental Discovery.

There lived in Boulogne, Italy, over a hundred years ago a learned student, Dr. Galvani, by name. On one occasion he was making a scientific experiment with frogs. After they were dead, wishing to dry them, he placed them with little brass rods and hung them on the iron railing of his balcony. To his surprise they began to move, and Galvani saw this was due to the action of the wind. This knocked the part of the bodies placed by the brass rods against the iron railing. This discovery resulted in the galvanic battery, which has been employed in the later inventions of the telegraph, trolley cars, electric lights, bells, etc.—all these because a frog made the acquaintance of a wise man.

PRESBYTERIANS

Proposition to Change Confession of Faith Voted Down—Opposed to Mormons.

Winnona, Ind., May 23.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church to day voted down the proposition to substitute for the Westminster confession of faith a brief statement of faith which was presented in the form of an avowal by the Nassau, N. Y., presbytery. The report of the board of home missions showed the board out of debt and on April 1 had $10,000 in the treasury.

The resolution announcing the Mormon church as a menace to the government of the United States, to the people and churches and asking the senate to expel Smoot was adopted with few dissenting votes. The plan for the erection of a central Presbyterian cathedral at the national capital, proposed by Justice Harlan of the supreme court of the United States, and upon which a divided report was submitted to day by the apical committee having the proposition under consideration, when taken up to morrow will encounter serious opposition. The majority report recommended that the project be referred to the Washington presbytery. The minority report opposed the erection of the central church on the ground that they can conceive no particular reason why such a church should be erected.

The assembly this afternoon defeated the proposed consolidation of the college board and board of education. The plan for arising $500,000 during the coming year to be applied to church college funds, submitted by the college board, was approved.

Fresno, Cal., May 23.—By a majority of 27 the Cumberland general assembly to day adopted the majority report declaring for union with the North Presbyterian church. Opponents of the union gave notice of a proposed protest and called a conference which was held to night to prepare such a paper.

THE WAR

St. Petersburg, May 23.—News from the front continues to point to immense renewal of fighting on a large scale. Linevitch is pressing the Japanese center both on the line of the railway and on the Mandarin road, but whether he is simply feeling Oyama's strength or has assumed a genuine offensive is not yet clear. There is no doubt whatever that Linevitch has made complete preparations for a big battle. All sick and wounded at Harbin have been transported westward to Rostok. Orders have been given to clear intervening hospitals.

WAR REPORTS.

St. Petersburg, May 23.—The Associated Press was informed at the admiralty to day that no direct advices have been received from Rostovskiy for ten days, when it is believed he set out on his long voyage. CLASS DAY AT HIGH SCHOOL

Exercises Were of Undoubtedly Interesting Character—Unique Conclusion to Program.

The class day exercises of the class of 1904 of the Jacksonville high school were held in the high school auditorium Tuesday afternoon in the presence of a large and enthusiastic audience. They were of an unusually interesting character and displayed much originality and ingenuity in planning and execution, which won the instant appreciation of all. Lloyd McKinney, the class president, presided, and introduced the different numbers of the program.

The difficult position of class historian was filled excellently by Miss Carrie Dunlap, who treated in a serio-comic manner of the various events which have made the life of this class so interesting during their four years in school.

The class poem of Carl Richards was an especially good feature of the program, and furnished much entertainment. Miss Marie Scott dipped into the future, drawing forth from behind the veil of time the careers of the various members of the class, showing that each followed the bent indicated in his school life.

The class will was read by Lloyd McKinney, the class president, who in a fitting manner bestowed all the class had inherited from the past upon the classes of the future. Perhaps the most amusing portion of the exercises was the "presentation" to the class by Carl Warner. The young gentleman appeared upon the stage leading a "hobby-horse," carrying a bag from which he drew a present or memento for each of the members of the class, all being chosen for their particular adaptability to represent some peculiarity of the person, or to recall some event of interest in their school life in which the recipient was interested. Each presentation was greeted with applause and when Mr. Warner presented to the class of 1904 the "hobby-horse" that the class of 1905 had ridden successfully for four years, the applause became deafening.

Two class songs were sung by the class, one of which was written by Miss Bessie Layman, and the other by Misses Carrie Dunlap and Hazel Brown. At the conclusion of the exercises in the building, the audience was invited to the outside of the building to witness the "sacrifice to Minerva," a new feature of the celebration. Carl Richards officiated as priest of Minerva at the altar fire burning in the southeast corner of the school grounds, and directed the ceremonies to the accompaniment of which a large number of Stophord-Brooke "Printers of English literature" were consigned to the flames. The books are no longer used in the high school and the seniors devised the unique plan for their destruction. The ceremony was a very impressive one. The members of the class solemnly circled the altar, whereupon was burning a bright fire, each bearing in his hand an open "primer," from which he was chanting passages from the text. One by one the books were consigned to the flames until the last one was consumed, and the exercises were at an end. The program was as follows:

Class Song—The class.
History—Carrie Dunlap.
Dedication—Hazel Brown.
Poem—Carl Richards.
Piano solo—Ethel Booth.
Prophecy—Marie Scott.
Will—Lloyd McKinney.
Presentation to class—Carl Warner.

SECOND ERROR FOUND IN BILL

Entire Section Lost From Appropriation Measure.

Further evidence of tampering with appropriation bills in the closing days of the last general assembly has been discovered. Last Friday it was found that by the clever manipulation of a penknife a $35,000 appropriation for the heating plant at the University of Illinois had been practically wiped out; now it turns out that an entire section of the same bill was dropped.

The section in question was one which Governor Deneen had insisted should go into all appropriation bills for the state institutions. It was designed as a check upon the trustees and provided that a detailed statement of all receipts and expenditures of the institution be made to the auditor of public accounts as a precedent to the withdrawal of any money from the state treasury. It also provided that the appropriation should be drawn quarterly upon presentation of the required statement and should not be taken from the treasury in a lump sum.

This provision in the appropriation bill was the invention of Lieutenant Governor Sherman. He got it into some of the bills two years ago and this time Governor Deneen gave directions to have similar provisions incorporated in all the bills in order that the state government might keep a closer check upon the institutions. While the language in some instances was different, this section was practically the same in each instance. Among the members of the legislature it was known as "the trailer."

Among the trustees of the institutions which had been in the habit of drawing the appropriations at the beginning of the fiscal year and depositing them with local banks "the trailer" was not a popular piece of legislation. It is probable that it would have been knocked out of all the bills but for the well known fact that the governor was back of it, and trustees who were dependent upon him for reappointment were afraid to provoke a fight with him.

With the university board things were different. This board is elected by the people and while the governor is an ex-official member of it, he is not in a position to dominate its policy. Lobbyists for the university appropriation made no secret of their opposition to "the trailer" while the bill was pending. The measure was popular among the members, however, and when the bill came into the house "the trailer" was incorporated in it by amendment. In the amended form it passed the lower branch.

So far as the legislature was concerned, and so far as the general public knew, "the trailer" was in the bill when it went through the senate, and an examination of the records discloses the fact that this important feature was eliminated somewhere along the line between the time the bill left the house clerk's office and reached its destination. Just where it was lost no one appears to know. Its final passage in the senate, after it had gone to conference, was in its present form.

That it was not out in conference is reasonably certain. Chairman Gardner of the senate committee on appropriations had control of the bill while it was in conference. He says the subject of "the trailer" was not under discussion in the conference committee at all. It may have been taken out prior to the meeting of the committee. This could have been done without attracting any particular attention, for the bill did not reach conference until the last night of the session and the great rush of work incident to the closing hours of the assembly made it impossible to compare anything more than the items of appropriation. No attention was given the general structure of any of the bills, the committee assuming that they were in the regular form.

This provision of the appropriation bills is a radical departure from the old sections on this subject. These provided simply that the appropriation could be drawn upon a warrant for the full appropriation on the order of the board of trustees, signed by the president and secretary. Following is the text of the new section:

TEXT OF THE CLAUSE.

"The auditor of public accounts is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant on the state treasurer for the sum hereby appropriated, quarterly in advance, upon the order of the board of trustees of the said university, attested by its secretary, with the corporate seal of the said university;

"Provided, that no part of said sum shall be due and payable the said university until a detailed statement of receipts from all sources, together with a detailed statement of the expenditures, accompanied by the original vouchers, is filed with the auditor of public accounts for all previous expenditures incurred; and said detailed statement of receipts and expenditures shall show the balance on hand at the beginning of the period for which such statement is made, the total amount received and expended and the balance on hand at the close of the quarter for which the same is made; and provided further, that such detailed statement of receipts and expenditures shall be made separate for each and every appropriation made to said university."

CREDITABLE EXHIBITION

Work of Pupils in City Schools Displayed in Attractive Manner at High School Building.

An unusually interesting and instructive display is on exhibition at the high school building, and will remain during the day. It is designed to show the different lines of work and study followed by the public schools of the city and comprises the whole course, from the lower first through the high school. The individual displays are so numerous that it will be impossible to make special mention of any, but all are uniformly good, and it would be hardly possible to devise a better method of showing in a small space and compact form the results of the training given in the public schools in the different branches.

The exhibition is displayed in the main hall upon tables and upon the walls. The first thing which attracts attention upon entering the hall is a miniature house made of light lumber, the work of boys of the seventh grade of the fourth ward; and furnished with little rugs, carpets and paper furniture made by the children of the lower first grade of the same ward. It is a very neat piece of work and attracts much attention.

The west wall of the hall is devoted to the primary departments. Here are cut out pictures, paper designs and articles manufactured by tiny fingers, many cleverly executed and all attractive. Among them may be mentioned a circus parade cut out of paper, including the animals, wagons, etc., which the childish heart delights in. Everything about the exhibition gives evidence of the intention on the part of the instructors to arouse in the tender minds of the scholars the sense most prominent in observation, and to direct it in a practical manner until it becomes a means of permanent, substantial and proper growth for the child's mind.

The east wall contains exhibits of the art work from some of the higher grades below the high school, and is indeed a creditable showing. Prominent among the exhibits are a number of clever cover designs, while the display of plain lettering is also good. There are also studies from still life and quite a number of very pretty landscapes done in water colors. In fact the variety of subjects of almost endless and the work shows better than anything else could the progress being made in the art department of the schools.

Upon the tables is perhaps the best series that has ever been shown here. Every course of study pursued in the schools is represented in the work of the students on display. The samples of work in literature, science, including the different departments, mathematics, composition, spelling, etc., are all prepared in an attractive form, most of them put in appropriate and beautiful bindings, in which the nature of the contents is indicated. For example, essays on the heart are bound into booklets cut and colored to represent hearts; descriptive essays of Africa appear as booklets cut in the shape of that continent, and having as a cover an appropriately designed outline map showing the political and physical divisions. This idea is carried out in a number of different subjects, and the manner in which they are treated is novel and attractive.

The geometry, botany, biology, physics, chemistry and physical geography exhibits of the high school, showing the practical nature of the work done, are very complete, and very excellent. It might be mentioned that the work was in no sense of the word prepared for the exhibition, but is merely in display of the regular school courses, prepared simply in conformity with the requirements of the courses.

The exhibition as a whole would be a credit to any school system and must be seen to be appreciated. The high school building will be open to the public again to day, and all who are interested in the work of our public schools should take advantage of the opportunity to see the display. In the manual training rooms in the basement is another exhibition which arouses more than usual interest—that of the manual training department. Here is shown what is being done to teach the pupils of the seventh grade and up how to use their hands.

The display includes the work of the pupils, as well as samples of the technical study they are given in connection with the course, such as designing, the study of tools and their care, the study of woods, fillers, stains and varnishes and mechanical drawing. The product of the benches are shown in great profusion, and include a great variety of subjects, all finished in the most perfect manner and exhibiting considerable skill and originality. Among other things are tool chests, tag-rattles, sleds, shelves, book cases, cart tables, racks, plate racks, umbrella racks, etc.

The pupils in the manual training classes are urged to use originality in their work, and are especially encouraged to design and plan their subjects before entering upon their execution. In this way the best results are attained and the articles shown are of greater interest. The display of the work of the young ladies of the class is also very good and shows that this branch of study is by no means closed to the gentle sex. Taken as a whole, the results of this year's work, as compared with that of last year, show a decided improvement along the lines where such improvements are to be most desired.

The exhibitions both in the hall and in the manual training rooms will be open to day, and all are invited to inspect them.

SPRINGFIELD NEWS. If Billy McKinley had taken a battery of Japanese howitzers, planted them on the heights south of Bloomington and opened fire on the court house with eleven-inch shells he would not have created much more of a commotion in that staid old town than the bill when he asked for the right to run his rube trains through the city. It was evident that he had planted his battery and was ready to begin firing, for he bought an electric light and steam heating plant that is a competitor of the street railway company's utility monopoly. The street railway in Bloomington is a big thing but it does not control all the main streets, as the company does in Springfield. There were several streets through which Mr. McKinley could run his lines if he could get a franchise. There is the bare possibility that McKinley might become a street car competitor as well as in electricity and public heating. So his proposal to run an independent line through the town raised up a fierce opposition which the McKinley adherents say is due entirely to the machinations of the street car company. Everybody seems to be for the interurban, but everybody seems to be carrying a gun. The residents of the streets proposed don't want the new tracks. The street car company don't want competition and would like to compel the interurban to run over its tracks at a good rental. The newspapers declare that any more cars will congest the present street car lines and make double tracking necessary and double tracks seem to be a bogey man in Bloomington. The newspapers are full of the "long editorial" and the "snatching communication." Business is almost stopped. McKinley enters town at night and takes the back streets, to avoid becoming the center of curiosity, which his well-known modesty revolts against. The man who can stir up Bloomington as McKinley has is a sight of some interest. Besides there is an impression that he carries a large roll with him; for a few days ago he walked into town and made a bid for an electric light plant and a couple of days later walked back with the money and paid for it. It is a pretty safe proposition that McKinley will get into Bloomington and pass through it if he decides it is necessary in his business, and when it is all over Bloomington will rise up and exclaim; blessed is William McKinley, for he brought us the interurban.

CLASS DAY AT HIGH SCHOOL

Exercises Were of Unusually Interesting Character—Unique Conclusion to Program.

The class day exercises of the class of 1905 of the Jacksonville high school were held in the high school auditorium Tuesday afternoon in the presence of a large and enthusiastic audience. They were of an unusually interesting character and displayed much originality and ingenuity in planning and execution, which won the instant appreciation of all. Lloyd McKinney, the class president, presided, and introduced the different numbers of the program.

The difficult position of class historian was filled excellently by Miss Carrie Dunlap, who treated in a serio-comic manner of the various events which have made the life of this class so interesting during their four years in school.

The class poem of Carl Richards was an especially good feature of the program, and furnished much entertainment. Miss Marie Scott dipped into the future, drawing forth from behind the veil of time the careers of the various members of the class, showing that each followed the bent indicated in his school life.

The class will be read by Lloyd McKinney the class president, who in a fitting manner bestowed all the class had inherited from the past upon the classes of the future. Perhaps the most amusing portion of the exercises was the "presentation" to the class by Carl Warner. The young gentleman appeared upon the stage leading a "hobby-horse," carrying a bag from which he drew a present or memento for each of the members of the class, all being chosen for their particular adaptability to represent some peculiarity of the person, or to recall some event of interest in their school life in which the recipient was interested. Each presentation was greeted with applause and when Mr. Warner presented to the class of 1905 the "hobby-horse" that the class of 1905 had ridden successfully for four years, the applause became deafening.

Two class songs were sung by the class, one of which was written by Miss Bessie Layman, and the other by Misses Carrie Dunlap and Hazel Brown.

At the conclusion of the exercises in the building, the audience was invited to the outside of the building to witness the "sacrifice to Minerva," a new feature of the celebration. Carl Richards officiated as priest of Minerva at the altar fire burning in the southeast corner of the school grounds, and directed the ceremonies to the accompaniment of which a large number of Stopford-Brooke "Primers of English literature" were consigned to the flames. The books are no longer used in the high school and the seniors devised the unique plan for their destruction. The ceremony was a very impressive one. The members of the class solemnly circled the altar, whereupon was burning a bright fire, each bearing in his hand an open "primer," from which he was chanting passages from the text. One by one the books were consigned to the flames until the last one was consumed, and the exercises were at an end. The program was as follows:

Class Song—The class.
History—Carrie Dunlap.
Declaration—Hazel Brown.
Poem—Carl Richards.
Piano solo—Ethel Booth.
Prophecy—Marie Scott.
Will—Lloyd McKinney.
Presentation to class—Carl Warner.

SECOND ERROR FOUND IN BILL

Entire Section Lost From Appropriation Measure.

Further evidence of tampering with appropriation bills in this closing days of the last general assembly has been discovered. Last Friday it was found that by the clever manipulation of a penknife a $35,000 appropriation for the heating plant at the University of Illinois had been practically wiped out; now it turns out that an entire section of the same bill was dropped.

The section in question was one which Governor Deneen had insisted should go into all appropriation bills for the state institutions. It was designed as a check upon the trustees and provided that a detailed statement of all receipts and expenditures of the institution be made to the auditor of public accounts as a prerequisite to the withdrawal of any money from the state treasury. It also provided that the appropriation should be drawn quarterly upon presentation of the required statement and should not be taken from the treasury in a lump sum.

This provision in the appropriation bill was the invention of Lieutenant Governor Sherman. He got it into some of the bills two years ago and this time Governor Deneen gave directions to have similar provisions incorporated in all the bills in order that the state government might keep a closer check upon the institutions. While the language in some instances was different, this section was practically the same in each instance. Among the members of the legislature it was known as "the trailer."

Among the trustees of the institutions which had been in the habit of drawing the appropriations at the beginning of the fiscal year and depositing them with local banks "the trailer" was not a popular piece of legislation. It is probable that it would have been knocked out of all the bills but for the well known fact that the governor was back of it, and trustees who were dependent upon him for reappointment were afraid to provoke a fight with him.

With the university board members different. This board is elected by the people and while the governor is an ex-official member of it, he is not in a position to dominate its policy. Lobbyists for the university appropriation made no secret of their opposition to "the trailer" while the bill was pending. The measure was popular among the members, however, and when the bill came into the house "the trailer" was incorporated in it by amendment. In the amended form it passed the lower branch.

So far as the legislature was concerned and so far as the general public knew, "the trailer" was in the bill when it went through the senate, but an examination of the records discloses the fact that this important feature was eliminated somewhere along the line between the time the bill left the house clerk's office and reached its destination. Just where it was lost no one appears to know. Its final passage in the senate, after it had gone to conference, was in its present form.

That it was not out in conference is reasonably certain. Chairman Gardner of the senate committee on appropriations had control of the bill while it was in conference. He says the subject of "the trailer" was not under discussion in the conference committee at all. It may have been taken out prior to the meeting of the committee. This could have been done without attracting any particular attention, for the bill did not reach conference until the last night of the session and the great rush of work incident to the closing hours of the assembly made it impossible to compare anything more than the items of appropriation. No attention was given the general structure of any of the bills, the committee assuming that they were in the regular form.

This provision of the appropriation bill is a radical departure from the old sections on this subject. These provided simply that the appropriation could be drawn upon a warrant for the full appropriation on the order of the board of trustees, signed by the president and secretary. Following is the text of the new section:

TEXT OF THE CLAUSE.
"The auditor of public accounts is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant on the state treasurer for the sum hereby appropriated, quarterly in advance, upon the order of the board of trustees of the said university, attested by its secretary, with the corporate seal of the said university."

"Provided, that no part of said sum shall be due and payable the said university until a detailed statement of receipts from all sources, together with a detailed statement of the expenditures, accompanied by the original vouchers, is filed with the auditor of public accounts for all previous expenditures incurred; and said detailed statement of receipts and expenditures shall show the balance on hand at the beginning of the period for which such statement is made; the total amount received and expended; and the balance on hand at the close of the quarter for which the same is made; and provided further, that such detailed statement of receipts and expenditures shall be made separate for each and every appropriation made to said university."

Work of Pupils in City Schools Displayed in Attractive Manner at High School Building.

An unusually interesting and instructive display is on exhibition at the high school building, and will remain during the day. Among other things are tool chests, labour rettes, sleds, shelves, book cases, art tables, racks, plate racks, umbrella racks, etc.

The pupils in the manual training classes are urged to use originality in their work, and are especially encouraged to design and plan their subjects before entering upon their execution. In this way the best results are attained and the articles shown are of greater interest.

The display of the work of the young ladies of the class is also very good and shows that this branch of study is by no means closed to the gentle sex. Taken as a whole, the results of this year's work, as compared with that of last year, show a decided improvement along the lines where such improvements are to be most desired.

The exhibitions both in the hall and in the manual training rooms will be open to day, and all are invited to inspect them.

DEATH RECORD

WALLS.

Word was received Tuesday announcing the death of Mrs. Mary E. Walls, who died Tuesday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. Kato English, wife of the late Lieutenant English, in Chicago. Death was the indirect result of the fire in the theater fire, as Mrs. Walls was injured in that dreadful catastrophe and underwent an operation about a year ago as a result of injuries received. Her rapid recovery from the operation led her friends to believe that her health had been fully restored and although kept from her work in the state school at Normal until November, she again took up her duties with an energy and vigor ever characteristic and was able to continue her teaching until about three weeks ago, when she was forced to return to Chicago, where her illness was found to be of a fatal character. Her suffering was intense and death was a welcome relief.

Mary E. Murray was born in Norfolk, Va., sixty-two years ago and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Murray. She was married during the civil war to John Walls, of New York city, and came to this city with her husband in the latter part of the sixties. Her husband died about thirty years ago, leaving an only son, Murray, who preceded his mother in death a number of years. Being left with the support of herself and son Mrs. Walls gave her attention to teaching and for thirty years she was identified with the public schools of this city, where she taught in both the second and third wards. Her influence as a teacher was strongly felt and her keen interest in her pupils and her ability to train the minds of the young made her a valued member of the educational force of the city. It has been her good fortune in later years to receive many grateful letters from former pupils, who had felt the impress of her strong character, thanking her for suggestions and for help such as only a teacher can bestow upon those who are entrusted to her care at a most formative period of their lives. The work of Mrs. Walls in the public schools of Jacksonville will be remembered and her friends will have the consolation of knowing her deeds in the flesh will cause her memory to be revered and that she will be honored for the conscientious work it has ever been her purpose to perform.

Three years ago Mrs. Walls went to the state Normal school at Normal, Ill., where she was singularly successful and won her way into the hearts of the pupils that will cause her loss to be keenly felt. Here the value of her years of training and experience showed itself most plainly as she was able to bring order out of chaos in a department that needed a strong directing hand.

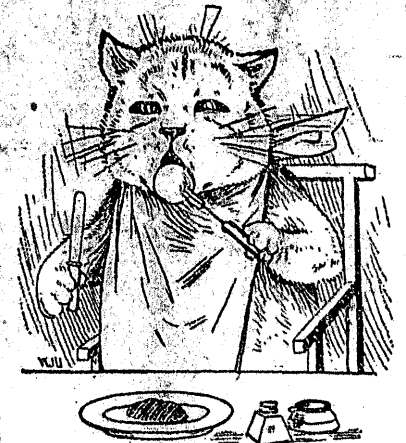

The death of Mrs. Walls will bring sadness and sorrow to many hearts. She leaves surviving two sisters, both of Chicago, Mrs. Kate English and Mrs. William Rockwell.

The funeral will be held at State Street Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Walls was a member, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends desiring to send flowers will please have them taken direct to the church after 10 o'clock this morning.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Burlington Motor Car Jumped Track—Engine Fails Kew on Alton—Local Items of In- terest and Personal Mention

F. Violett, roadmaster's clerk, went to Centralia Tuesday on company business. He started Monday on a motor car for that point and the machine jumped from the track near Virden. The car was damaged to such an extent that it was sent to Beardstown for repairs. Mr. Violett was on the car when it left the track, but escaped injury.

W. S. Allen has resumed his work as railway postal clerk on the C. P. & St. L. passenger after an extended illness. His many friends will be pleased to learn of his recovery. Robert B. Wolgamott, who has had charge of the run for the past five months in the absence of Mr. Allen, returned to his home in Peoria Tuesday. While in the city Mr. Wolgamott made many friends.

Harry Miller, of St. Louis, the newly appointed general manager of the Wabash, is to give up the presidency of the union depot at Hannibal as a result of his action in retiring from the Burlington, the depot company being controlled by the Burlington management.

While Mr. Miller will probably relinquish his stock of the Burlington with the depot company he will probably get that held by H. L. Maceo, general superintendent of the Wabash, and thereby retain his place on the board of directors.

"I am a director in nineteen corporations," Mr. Miller recently said, "which I have to resign on account of terminating my connection with the Burlington. When I get time I am going to prepare these resignations." The resignation from the Hannibal union depot will be one of them. H. C. Nutt, the newly appointed general superintendent of the Missouri district of the Burlington, will likely succeed Mr. Miller to the presidency.

A report has been compiled by the Alton officials showing the percentage of engine failures to miles traveled by the power of the various divisions. These reports are issued periodically and some interesting comparisons are being made with the showing of the past four years. Although the tonnage rating has been steadily advancing, and with a supposed tendency to increase the failure of locomotives, due to the tremendous strain, the number of failures to miles traveled was decreased in a remarkable manner during the past few years and now the percentage is the smallest in the history of the road. An engine failure is charged up by the transportation department when through some defect in the machinery or leaking flues, the engine is forced to give up its train. That the motive power department has gotten the power into such shape that the failures have become so few, is certainly a matter for congratulation and reflects credit upon all concerned. The few failures during the past year have been a subject of general remark of late and the expense to the company has been vastly decreased in consequence.

F. S. Webster, representing the Yetman transmitting typewriter, of Chicago, was a visitor in the city Tuesday. Two of his machines are in use here and he hopes to find other buyers.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Oliver, of Peoria, are visiting with relatives in the city. Mr. Oliver is employed as a fireman for the Alton and has a preferred freight run.

J. E. Davenport, division passenger agent for the L. & N., was in the city Tuesday calling on the local railroad officials.

H. C. Porter, traveling freight agent for the C. H. & D., was in the city Tuesday on company business.

W. A. Card, trainmaster for the Burlington, was in the city Tuesday.

A party of 21 laborers passed through the city on Burlington train No. 48 Tuesday enroute to Centralia. The Burlington is extending its tracks from Centralia to Herpin and the men were enroute to the former city to begin work.

John Clancy, of the C. P. & St. L. shops, went to Litchfield Tuesday to attend the funeral of John May, the Wabash conductor who was killed by Wabash passenger No. 14 at Staunton Monday evening.

CONSENT NOT NEEDED

Of Property Owners for Public Improvements.

After July 1, 1905, the petition of one-half of the owners of abutting property will not be necessary before the city council can pass an ordinance for public street and alley improvement. Among the bills passed by the last general assembly and signed by the governor was one of interest regarding special assessments. The bill was senate bill 36, introduced by Senator Humphrey. It amends the special assessment act of June 14, 1897, amended April 10, 1899, by amending section 4 to read as follows:

"Section 4.—When any such city, town or village shall by ordinance provide for the making of any local improvement, it shall by the same ordinance prescribe whether the same shall be made by special assessment, or by special taxation of contiguous property or general taxation, or both."

This act cuts out all the act of 1897, as amended by the act of 1899, which provided that in cities of less than fifty thousand population, the petition of one-half of the abutting property owners must be secured before the city council could order the improvement, either by special assessment or special tax or general taxation, and it also cuts out that portion of the section which provides that in cities, towns or villages of under 10,000 population no ordinance for making any improvement shall be adopted unless a majority of the resident property owners affected by such improvement shall petition for the same.

Senator Powers' bill, No. 281, which passed the senate, but never passed the house, was one which was of great interest to cities. It applied only to cities of 25,000 or more population according to the federal census of 1900. It provided that where local improvements had been made on streets or alleys and paid for by special assessment or special tax, that in the event of renewals or repairs, the work should be paid for by general taxation, and not by special assessment or special taxes in the case of the original improvement.

FRESHMEN DEFEATED.

The Sophomores of Illinois college defeated the Freshmen in a game of basketball Tuesday by a score of 15 to 4. The game was a hard fought one and some excellent playing was done by the players on both sides.

IT WILL BE BUILT

The Street Railroad to Nichols Park Assured This Summer.

Mr. L. B. Fisher, the accomplished superintendent of the properties of the Illinois Traction company, was in the city Tuesday evening and was seen by a Journal reporter, and gave the comforting assurance that the company would at the earliest possible moment begin the complete reconstruction of the South Main street line and at the same time extend it to Nichols park. The time of beginning work would depend on the securing of material, but Mr. Fisher thought it possible to divert sufficient rails from some other enterprise, if necessary, to accomplish this work. Of course there will be general rejoicing at this piece of good news. This is something that has been so long needed and now that it seems so soon to be realized it will cause no little rejoicing. Mr. Fisher said the time of completion was, of course, guess work, though some time in July would not be unreasonable to anticipate.

Mr. Fisher is a remarkable man in many ways. Though but 30 years of age he has shown an administrative ability which has placed him in charge of one of the greatest enterprises in the state, and the vast details and intricate matters connected with it he handles with ease and wonderful ability. He is described by those who know him best as a veritable Napoleon for accomplishing things of a difficult nature and great dimensions, and one who is just the man for the important position he holds.

Like the typical figure representing Chicago, his motto, "I Will," means a volume and when he says it something is going to be done. He has said this in regard to the work on the South Main street line and it will be hailed with delight by not a few. Many things will be sure to follow: Amusements at the park, a zoo of greater or less dimensions, a racing inclosure adjacent, skating in winter, and any amount of good things too numerous to mention.

Fine line of commencement gifts at Ledford's.

SHOT WITH DEADLY AIM

Two Killed and Deputy Breddings Wounded—Tragedy Causes Great Excitement.

SHERIFF'S POSSE HAS ENCOUNTER NEAR WAVERLY

Trouble Started Over Resulted Writ to Get Possession of a Colt—W. W. W. Paul and Pilferd Paul are Dead and Albert Paul Under Arrest.

W. W. Paul and son, Pilferd Paul, were shot and killed on the Auburn road about a mile east of Waverly Tuesday afternoon about four o'clock as a result of resisting a posse under Deputy Sheriff H. L. Turner with a warrant for the arrest of W. W. Paul charging assault with intent to kill. Paul had twice resisted service during the day, once on the road between Waverly and Franklin, when Constable James Roundtree of Franklin, tried to serve a writ of replevin, and once just outside of Waverly, where Constable Lombard, of Waverly, and Constable Roundtree attempted to serve the same writ. Paul held both constables at bay with threats to kill and as an evidence of his intentions had lying across his knees an ugly looking shot gun.

After a failure of service of the writ the constables returned to Waverly, where Roundtree swore out a warrant against Paul, charging him with assault to kill and the warrant was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff H. L. Turner for service. Turner swore in James Cranfield and Robert Breddings as deputies and started after Paul, who was traveling in a covered wagon with his wife and three sons and who went through Waverly about two blocks from the square on the Auburn road. As they went through the corporate limits of the town Paul got out of the covered wagon and walked behind it carrying the shot gun on his shoulder.

Deputy Sheriff Turner and his deputies soon overtook Paul and about ten feet before he reached the wagon driven by Paul, Turner jumped out of the buggy in which the three deputies were riding and told Paul to consider himself under arrest, Paul having by this time stopped his wagon. Paul had in his possession a shot gun and each of the three sons carried revolvers. Breddings and Cranfield were both in the buggy and Turner was on the ground when Breddings remarked to Cranfield that they had better get out and join Turner.

As Breddings attempted to get out of the buggy one of the Pauls opened fire on him a bullet striking him in the left shoulder. The deputies were armed with a shot gun, in the hands of Breddings, a Winchester and a revolver. When Breddings was hit he lost control of his gun temporarily and Turner and Cranfield opened fire with their weapons. The Pauls shot several times and the older Paul ran in front of his team, after shooting both barrels of his shot gun, to reload.

Meanwhile Breddings had regained control of the shot gun he carried and it is thought his two barrels are the ones that killed the elder Paul and his oldest son, as both were struck in the right and left sides respectively, from which death was practically instantaneous.

All told twenty shots were exchanged. After the killing of the father and elder brother the other two sons surrendered and were placed under arrest, charging assault with intent to kill, and brought to Waverly.

Coroner Spencer, of Murrayville, was notified of the tragedy and went to Waverly, where an inquest was held Tuesday evening.

STORY OF THE TRAGEDY.

W. W. Paul and his family came to Franklin in a covered wagon from Missouri last fall and rented a small house located on the Lee Caldwell farm not far from Franklin. They seemed to be rather illiterate people and followed wood chopping for a living. They were in Franklin once or twice a week and traded around the stores and the father was frequently heard to remark that he was from Missouri and would have to be shown. This remark would be dropped in casual conversation and there was nothing in their conduct that indicated an ugly disposition.

Recently a mare belonging to Paul dropped a colt that had been sired by a stallion owned by John Votsmeier, of Franklin. The latter, unable to collect the service fee from Paul, claimed a property right in the colt until the fee was paid. Votsmeier got word that Paul and his family were going to move back to Fredericktown, Mo., and had a replevin writ issued for the colt, which Constable Roundtree tried to serve when the threats were made against him.

Roundtree went to the Lee Caldwell farm with the writ Tuesday afternoon, but found Paul and his family had gone away. From neighbors he learned they had only recently left the place and were not far down the road. Roundtree rode after them, and when he attempted to read the writ of replevin was threatened with his life. He therefore rode away and taking a short cut got into Waverly before Paul. He went to Constable Joe Lombard and both constables tried to serve the writ, but failed. Roundtree then swore out a warrant charging Paul with assault with intent to kill and the circumstances that followed are as before related.

The news of the killing spread rapidly over Waverly and the surrounding country and the greatest excitement prevailed. Breddings, the deputy who was shot in the left shoulder blade, was brought at once to Waverly and Dr. Allyn and Dr. Hughes were called. They probed for the bullet, but at last reports had been unable to locate it. While the injury to Breddings is considered severe fatal results are not anticipated by the physicians in charge.

TOOK CHARGE OF BODIES.

William Wesley Paul, the father, and Pilferd Paul, the son, who were killed, were brought to the undertaking rooms of Crane, Swift & Beatty. An investigation showed that the wounds were not of a bad nature, but that a large number of shot entered the body of both men and penetrated the vital organs.

The tragedy took place on the Auburn road near the residence of Marian Redfern. The covered wagon of the Pauls contained the personal property of the family and they also had with them four or five horses and the colt in question. All this property was taken in charge by the officers at the time the two younger sons were placed under arrest charged with assault with intent to kill.

CORONER NOTIFIED.

Coroner Spencer was notified of the tragedy and drove at once from Murrayville about six thirty o'clock Tuesday evening. He empaneled the following jury, who assembled in the law office of Etter & Hamilton, where the inquest was held: A. L. Hamilton, foreman; Brook Reinbach, clerk; G. M. Milsted, Thomas Rogers, M. C. Hopson and J. H. Dial. The witnesses examined were James Cranfield, James Roundtree, who had followed the deputies and who caught up with them just after the shooting had occurred; Joe Lombard and H. L. Turner, Albert Paul and Pilferd Paul, the two younger sons, were asked to testify, but refused. The testimony brought out the facts substantially as above related and the verdict of the jury was that "William Wesley Paul and Pilferd Paul came to their death by gun shot wounds inflicted by officers in defense while being resisted and that the same was justifiable."

Mrs. Paul, the mother, sat by her sons while the coroner's inquest was being held and at the conclusion of the inquest the sons were taken before Police Magistrate Ortiss for trial. The trial was entered on about midnight and at the request of Sheriff Rodgers, who happened to take the afternoon train for Waverly, Attorney E. E. Etter appeared as the representative of the Paul brothers and A. L. Hamilton represented State's Attorney B. A. Van Winkle.

PRELIMINARY HEARING.

At the preliminary hearing of Albert Paul and Pilferd Paul, charged with assault with intent to kill, held before Police Magistrate Ortiss, Pilferd Paul was discharged and Albert Paul was held to $500 bail. In default of bail the latter was turned over to Sheriff Rodgers, who will probably bring the prisoner to the county jail in this city on the morning of Burlington train.

THE PAUL FAMILY.

W. W. Paul, the father, was a tall man, over six feet, of spare build and wore a mustache, closely trimmed. He weighed probably 150 pounds and was 62 years of age. Pilferd Paul, the son who was killed, was 23 years of age, and the other sons were both over age. It seemed to be the opinion at Waverly that both men would be buried at the expense of the county, as the family possessed but scant means.

Paul and his family had led a roving life for many years and only recently had been visited by a number of friends and kinfolk, and it is thought that a common point had been agreed upon where they would all meet later, as the friends had left only a few days ago.

Coroner Spencer took charge of the shot gun and three revolvers belonging to Paul and his sons and will keep them in his possession.

HATCH SURPRISED.

When Hatch, the enterprising druggist, rather than await the ordinary methods of introduction, urged the Dr. Howard Co. to secure a sale quickly in Jacksonville for their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, by offering the regular bottle, containing sixty doses at half price, he did not anticipate the phenomenal success that has resulted. The wonderful sale for the specific as a result of this plan was as much of a surprise to Mr. Hatch as to any one. He has not only a sale for Dr. Howard's specific here in Jacksonville that is far larger than many of the old standard remedies, but he is almost daily in receipt of mail orders for the specific. So much favorable talk has been caused by this offer, and so many new friends have been made for the specific, that the Dr. Howard Co. has authorized Druggist Hatch to continue this special sale a little longer.

ARCADIA

The past few days remind one of the "good old summer time." D. K. McCarty, of Cracker's Bend, was here last week attending a petition for the purpose of having the road west of Hurryville farm changed. C. W. Rouse, of the Hurry Monday hanging wall paper for Dr. Waldo. By agreement between all concerned the road at the corner of Arcadia will be changed in the near future. Your humble scribe had quite an exciting time Sunday, on having a right hand at a bunch of sheep and upset my rig, but we fortunately got out with but few bruises. E. J. Henderson recently lost twenty-six hogs with cholera, which left him but one, and it has departed for parts unknown. He says he will pay a reward for its return. He describes him as weighing about thirteen pounds, badly withered and scrawny, and that makes him resemble an "ant eater." C. P. Henderson has been delivering "wordings" to the "wordings" we have not learned his purpose, but heard that he is making a track for springing for the benefit of some of the "wordings." A number of kids attended the ball game in Arcanville Sunday.

A number of young folks indulged in a rollicking dance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. D. Vortman's house and had a jolly good time till midnight. William Taylor and wife, of Pin Oak, have moved to the 30th on business; also his wife and daughter, Nancy. James Sawyer, of Bluffs, was here Sunday driving a 3-year-old colt. He has a span of nice 3-year-olds, well broken, for sale.

SUMMER TRIP UNSURPASSED ON THE CONTINENT

The Pacific coast via that point over the Denver & Rio Grande system, "The Scenic Line of the World," is the most beautiful in America. No European trip of equal length can compare with it in grandeur of scenery or wealth of novel interest. Then Salt Lake City itself is a most quaint and picturesque place and well worth the journey. Its Mormon temple, tabernacle, tithing office and church institutions; its hot sulphur springs within the city limits; its delightful temperature; sunny climate; and its great Salt Lake—greater and deeper than the Dead Sea in Palestine—are but a few features of Salt Lake City's countless attractions. There are parks, drives, canons and beautiful outlying mountain and lake resorts. Imagine, if you can, a bath in salt water a mile above sea level, and in water in which the human body cannot sink. Inquire of your nearest ticket agent for low tourist rates to Salt Lake City, or write for information and copy of "Salt Lake City, 'City of the Saints.'" to S. K. Hooper, Gen. Pass. Agt., Denver, Colo.

Perfect Sleep

Women Who Are Free From Female Ills Sleep Soundly

Points to the Cause

How many women are troubled with insomnia! How few, alas, habitually sleep the night through and rise refreshed. If you can't sleep it is because your nerves will not let your body rest. Women's nervous troubles come from female diseases. Their delicate organism is a network of intricate nerves. No woman can suffer from female irregularities without eventually ruining her nervous system. Get rid of female disease and the perfect sleep of childhood will return.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

cures all female troubles and restores nerve equilibrium and brings sound, restful, healthful, natural sleep. Thus does this wonderful remedy operate to bring health to suffering women.

Wakefulness and Nervousness Cured

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Last spring, I lost my appetite, had headaches, and bearing down pains with cramps so that I was in perfect misery. I became wakeful and extremely nervous. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and am pleased to state that I derived immediate benefit and soon enjoyed permanent relief. Within eight weeks I was restored to normal health and felt refreshed and strengthened as though I had enjoyed a lengthy vacation. Since that time I have recommended your Compound to a number of my lady friends suffering with female irregularities, and those who have used it report great benefit from its use. 955 College Ave., Appleton, Wis. Mrs. E. E. VAN DINTER.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured more women of female diseases than any other medicine in the world. Mrs. Pinkham advises sick women free. She will write you a personal letter if you tell her about your case. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

The Ins and Outs of Soda Crackers

Soda crackers fresh from the oven are good—delicious

—if exposed to the air they quickly lose that goodness—much of it in a few minutes—most of it in an hour—all of it in a day. That's why the common kind, the paper-bag kind, have lost their flavor before you get them. In Uneeda Biscuit there's a difference—a big difference—because they are packed at the oven door in air-tight packages—the package which holds within the fresh, crisp, oven flavor of Uneeda Biscuit—and keeps without the undesirable flavors of all other things—that's one reason why millions buy Uneeda Biscuit. Another reason is the price.

EIGHTH ANNUAL OPEN MEETING

Tuesday Club and Guests Were Delightfully Entertained at Home of Mrs. J. W. Miller—An Excellent Program Enjoyed.

The eighth annual open meeting of the East Side Tuesday club was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. W. Miller on South Main street. Nearly the whole membership of the club, together with several invited guests were present, and the marked success which has characterized these annual occasions was fully up to the former standards, and those present were most delightfully entertained by a program of music and elocution. The club color is lavender and the house decorations were profuse and most tastefully arranged in each room were large bunches of syringa and wisteria.

The guests were given a most cordial welcome by the reception committee and following a social hour an excellent program was given by Miss Corinne Musgrove, assisted by Miss Pearl Purviance and Miss Hazel Glenn.

The program of Miss Musgrove consisted of both vocal and instrumental numbers. She possesses marked ability in her chosen work and her selections last night not only delighted the large gathering present, but gave further evidence of her musical skill. Her playing is characterized by a sympathy and a precision which makes her interpretation most intelligible, while she possesses a voice of exceptional purity of tone and she sings with much ease.

Miss Musgrove was assisted in her program by Miss Pearl Purviance, who gave two elocution numbers. Miss Purviance speaks with a clear enunciation, her inflections are perfect and her selections showed a most careful study of dialect, and she put life and spirit into her lines. Miss Hazel Glenn also assisted in the program with a violin solo. She plays with accuracy and feeling and her number clearly set forth her intelligent understanding of this difficult instrument.

The program was as follows:

Instrumental—"Sonata in C Minor"..... Beethoven

Miss Musgrove.

Reading—"Swing Low Sweet Chariots"..... Miss Purviance.

"Cavatina"..... Reft

Fifth Air Daucha

Miss Glenn.

"Two Preludes".....Hollar

Miss Musgrove.

Reading—"In the usual way"..... Miss Purviance.

Vocal—"My Mother Bids Me Bid My Hair".....Hayden

Miss Musgrove.

Following the program excellent refreshments were served and a social hour followed, which made the occasion indeed a most delightful one.

The Tuesday club is one of the strong literary and social organizations of the city. During the past year a comprehensive study of Germany has been made and the country, the government, her great men, her institutions and her people have been brought to the attention of the club members in carefully prepared papers, which have been read and discussed at several meetings. Just before close of the year's work a lecture by Mrs. Elizabeth Koch, of the high school, aided greatly in a more thorough understanding of their subject.

During the coming year Boston and its environs, with special reference to the influence the city played in our colonial history, will have the attention of the club.
